BECOME A STUDENT MEMBER OF SASEG !

Swiss Association of Energy Geoscientists

Why should you join?

After an MSc or PhD, less than 5% of students will be able to pursue a academic career. If you are looking for an exciting job in Energy Geoscience, the SASEG can help you in this challenging task by offering an access to a wide national network of senior and young professional energy geoscientists from industry, consultancy companies, and academia.

General Benefits

Swiss Bulletin for Applied Geology (2 issues yearly)

Attendance to SASEG's Annual Convention, with two days of associated geological field trips in attractive Swiss and international locations

Be up-to-date on events happening near you such as conferences and lectures on energy-relevant topics, benefitting also from synergies with sister societies AAPG, EAGE and SPE.
